Career Coaching

A Must Have Skill for Admissions Professionals

Successful admissions professionals should be able to marry a candidate's aspirations and past experiences with the current hiring and employment landscape to help determine if the candidate is the right fit for a program... how good are your Career Coaching skills?

~25%

Of MBA graduates in Top 15 MBA programs pursue a career in Consulting

~8%

Of MBA graduates in Top 15 MBA programs become Entrepreneurs

~50%

Of MBA graduates in Top 15 MBA programs pursue a career in Industry

~25%

Of MBA graduates in Top 15 MBA programs pursue a career in Financial Services

Our goal in Admissions is to recruit students with realistic expectations who fit smoothly into our classrooms and are well prepared for good careers post graduation. To do this effectively, we need to measure a candidate's GOALS, OPTIONS, REALITY and WILLINGNESS TO SUCCEED.

Admissions professionals also need to understand what employers are looking for as well as current trends in the MBA recruiting marketplace.

Learn these skills and more at the upcoming Admissions Institute for New Professionals, Europe http://bit.ly/1NJFbV3 in February 2016!!!

