Ethics Education in MBA Programs

GMAC® Data-to-Go Series

Grady Bruce Rachel Edgington

Graduate Management Admission Council®

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved. This document may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without modification and with all copyright and trademark attributions included.

Research Objectives

- Learn how ethics is incorporated in curriculum
- Measure how effectively ethics is incorporated
- Identify predictors of effectiveness
- Discover how MBA students assess significance of corporate scandals
- Measure attitudes toward effects of corporate scandals on (1) business and (2) job search

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved. This document may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without modification and with all copyright and trademark attributions included.

Methodology

- Online survey—Global MBA Graduate Survey 2003
- 75 U.S. schools
- 3,225 respondents
- Response rate = 27%

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved.
This document may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without modification and with all copyright and trademark attributions included.

Sample

Gender	%
Male	67%
Female	33%

Median age = 29

Citizenship (World Regions)	%
Asia	16%
United States	70%
Canada	1%
Latin America & the Caribbean	7%
Europe	5%

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved. This document may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without modification and with all copyright and trademark attributions included.

Sample (continued)

Program Type
Full-time	82%
Part-time	15%
Executive	3%
Class Size
Small (< 100)	24%
Medium (100 to 250)	33%
Large (> 250)	43%
School Prestige
Top-ranked	44%
All others	56%

Graduate

Management

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved.

This document may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without modification and with all copyright and trademark attributions included.

Admission Council®

Methods Used to Incorporate Ethics

Speakers	56%
Required core course(s)	46%
Integrated case studies within some courses	44%
Referred to in most courses	40%
Elective course(s)	40%
Workshops	26%
Integrated case studies within most courses	18%
Outside assignments/projects	17%

Graduate Management Admission Council®

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved.

This document may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without modification and with all copyright and trademark attributions included.

School Differences in Major Methods

Speakers

Full-time—62% Part-time—28% Executive—44% Top-ranked—68% All others—46%

Required core courses

Full-time—48% Part-time—40% Executive—26% Top-ranked—46% All others—46%

Integrated case studies within some courses—no significant differences

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved. This document may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without modification and with all copyright and trademark attributions included.

Effectiveness of Ethics Incorporation in Curriculum

Comparison of Mean Effectiveness Rating Based on Usage of Method

	Mean Effectiveness Rating
		Not
Method	Used	Used	Difference
Integrated case studies within most courses	3.97	3.14	0.82
Outside assignments/projects	3.81	3.18	0.63
Referred to in most courses	3.65	3.05	0.59
Speakers	3.50	3.03	0.48
Workshops	3.63	3.17	0.46
Required core course(s)	3.54	3.08	0.45
Integrated cases studies within some courses	3.46	3.16	0.30
Elective courses	3.45	3.19	0.26
5 pt scale: 5 = Extremely effective; 1 = Not at all effective	-

Graduate

Management

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved.

This document may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without modification and with all copyright and trademark attributions included.

Admission Council®

Multiple Regression Model Predicting Effectiveness Rating

Independent Variable	Standardized Beta Coefficient
Number of incorporation methods used	0.260*
Required core course(s)	0.152*
Quality of program management	0.149*
Integrated case studies within most courses	0.145*
Referred to in most courses	0.120*
Willingness to recommend school	0.081*
Quality of curriculum	0.075
Quality of faculty	0.062
* p < 0.001;  p < 0.01;  p < 0.02.

Graduate

Management

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved.

This document may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without modification and with all copyright and trademark attributions included.

Admission Council®

Mean Number of Ways of Incorporation by School Characteristics

Progra	іт Туре	Mean <sup>a</sup>
	Full-time	3.1
	Part-time	2.3
	Executive	2.5
Schoo	I Size
	Small (< 100)	2.8
	Medium (100 to 250)	2.8
	Large (> 250 )	3.1
School Prestige
	Top-ranked	3.2
	All others	2.7
<sup>a</sup> Overall mean = 2.9

Graduate Management Admission Council®

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved.

This document may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without modification and with all copyright and trademark attributions included.

Attitudes toward Recent Corporate Scandals

- More significant—68%
- No different—29%
- Less significant—3%

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved. This document may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without modification and with all copyright and trademark attributions included.

Effects of Recent Corporate Scandals

Effect	% Choosing Effect
Created an atmosphere of distrust of corporations	81%
Promoted short- and long-term change in business practices	52%
Caused companies to act more openly	41%
Caused companies to act more ethically	37%
Negatively impacted the perceptions by the marketplace of MBAs	30%
Brought about short-term change, but will not change long-term business practices	29%
Had little or no effect on business practices	8%
Elevated the respectability of an MBA education	4%

Graduate

Management Admission

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved.

This document may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without modification and with all copyright and trademark attributions included.

Admissic Council®

Effectiveness and Effects

More effective, more likely to say the recent corporate scandals—

- caused companies to act more ethically
- promoted short- and long-term change in business practices
- elevated the respectability of an MBA education
- caused companies to act more openly

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved.
This document may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without modification and with all copyright and trademark attributions included.

Less likely to say—

- brought about short-term change, but will not change long-term business practices
- had little or no effect on business practices
- negatively affected perceptions by the marketplace of MBAs

Graduate Management Admission Jded. Council®

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved. This document may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without modification and with all copyright and trademark attributions included.

Effects of Corporate Scandals on Job Search Behavior

Effect	% Choosing Effect
I'm more likely to accept a job offer from a reputable company versus one under investigation	64%
I think more critically about the ethical culture of prospective employers	52%
I'm more likely to ask questions about company values in job interviews	39%
I spend more time closely reading corporate financial statements	24%

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved.
This document may be reproduced, in whole or in part, without modification and with all copyright and trademark attributions included.

 Management

 Admission

 Council®

Graduate

Correlations of Effects on Job Search Behavior with Ethics Incorporation Rating

Effect	Pearson Correlation
I think more critically about the ethical culture of prospective employers	0.13
I spend more time closely reading corporate financial statements	0.11
I'm more likely to accept a job offer from a reputable company versus one under investigation	0.09
I'm more likely to ask questions about company values in job interviews	0.07

©2008 Graduate Management Admission Council® (GMAC®). All rights reserved.
Children for the second s

Graduate