

ROADMAP TO GRAD B-SCHOOL

First Years

- Maintain a strong GPA, get to know your professors, and participate in class.
- Get involved on campus. Volunteer or join a student organization.
- Explore your campus career center. See what grad school and career-related resources and services they offer.

Sophomores

- Set clear academic goals (target GPA, deadline to choose a major, etc.)
- Take on a leadership role on campus.
- Draft your résumé. Need help? Visit your campus career center.
- Start looking into the GMAT exam. What does it entail?

Juniors

- Decide when to take the GMAT and register for the exam.
- Find a mentor who can guide you on college, career, and GMAT prep.
- Obtain an internship or part-time job and build up your network.
- Create a LinkedIn account.

Seniors

- Register for the GMAT exam if you haven't already done so.
- If applying to grad school: Consult your advisor and career center for application tips and tricks.
- If job searching: Reach out to your network, attend campus career fairs and interviewing, and search jobs on LinkedIn.

Post-College

- Take advantage of every opportunity to be a leader.
- Attend employer trainings.
- Keep a record of your achievements in preparation for application essays and interviews.
- Save money for school. Research financial aid opportunities.
